

To the Multiculturalism Enquiry,

I support migration to this beautiful country, we have room for many. But I implore you to consider the terrible problems many countries in Europe are currently having because of mass migration without proper controls or guidelines.

Yes we should invite many more here, especially those suffering persecution, particularly Christians who are being persecuted for their faith in Muslim countries, but tighter controls and guidelines need to be implemented to ensure proper assimilation into our culture.

Our culture is what make Australia great - our freedom from terrorism, our freedom of speech and our freedom of religion - this should be protected at all costs.

Yours sincerely,
